

NEW - Few changes made on our website to help you access our catalogues in an easier way

Dear users, the MADDLAIN research project is still being finalised but the CegeSoma is already applying a few of its outcomes to better meet your digital needs. A few changes were made to help you access our catalogues in an easier way.

New on our website:

With one click, you can access all our catalogues:

- * Via the new ?Search our collections? button located top right on the homepage

- * Via the ?Catalogues? button in the menu bar on the left

With one click, you can access our digitised collections. By clicking on the new ?Spotlight on our collections? button, you can explore our collection by category. As a bonus we added a ?News? section, in which we will discuss our latest acquisitions.
