

Derk Venema

Derk Venema is a philosopher and a lawyer (Leiden), and has obtained his PhD with the study 'Rechters in oorlogstijd' (Nijmegen 2007) on the Dutch judiciary during the Second World War. Since 2001, he is a lecturer and researcher philosophy of law and introduction to legal studies at the law faculty of the Radboud Universiteit Nijmegen. He also teaches professional ethics at the Studiecentrum Rechtspleging for the training of judges. He does comparative research on the supreme courts in democracies occupied by Nazi Germany.